DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

The Information Disclosure Statement filed October 2004 is a duplicate of those filed January and July of 2004. Only a single signed copy has been returned.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 5, 6, 9, 10, 13, 14, 17, 18, 25, 26, 29, 30 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Batchelder (US 5,689,333) as evidenced by Rigler (US 2002/0114224).

Regarding claims 1, 5, 9, 13, 17, 25 and 29, Batchelder discloses illuminating a sample (4) with a light of a first wavelength (Fig. 1) the imaging the sample using the light emitted from the sample at a second and third wavelength different from one another (col. 4 lines 49-55; Fig. 1) and creating a calculated image of the sample from the first and second image (col. 10 lines 52-65). The electronic tunable filter of Batchelder would allow for the image to be obtained at different wavelengths. Batchelder teaches the use of fluorescent microscopy which Rigler states can be used to examine forensic samples (para. 0002). All the different claimed samples are listed in the current specification as functional equivalents (current specification para. 0003).

Regarding claims 2, 6, 10, 14, 18, 26 and 30, Batchelder discloses correcting the calculated image using signals extracted from at least one of the first and second images the signals extracted from a subset of pixels from at least one of the first and second image pixels (col. 10 lines 48-51). Batchelder reduces the background noise of a sample.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3, 4, 7, 8, 11, 12, 15, 16, 19, 20, 23, 24, 27, 28, 31 and 32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Batchelder (US 5,689,333) as evidenced by Rigler (US 2002/0114224) in view of Treado (US 2002/0113210).

Batchelder teaches the invention as claimed but lacks reference to taking images outside of the area of interest. Treado teaches the subset of pixels is outside the area of interest and subtracting the background signal provided by the light of the wavelength from outside the area of interest from the first and second image (para. 0078). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have the Batchelder invention include the noise reduction method taught by Treado for the purpose of allowing the observer to focus solely on the object to be examined.
